The $200,000 Lexington (G3) serves as a Kentucky Derby qualifier but with only 34 points in the offering (20-8-4-2), My Boy Jack is the only member of the field with a legitimate chance to make the Run for Roses. Winner of the Southwest (G2) at Oaklawn and a fast-closing third most recently in the TwinSpires.com Louisiana Derby (G2), My Boy Jack currently ranks 20th on the Kentucky Derby Leaderboard and probably needs a top two finish to guarantee himself a starting spot in the 20-horse field.

The other 11 contestants could be aiming for a start in the May 19 Preakness (G1). In last year's Lexington, Senior Investment parlayed a head win over eventual 3-year-old champion West Coast into a third-place finish in the second leg of the Triple Crown.

Post 12 complicates matters for My Boy Jack and the confirmed late runner is facing a short stretch at the 1 1/16-mile distance. The Keith Desormeaux trainee can still overcome all obstacles – his 99 BRIS Speed rating last time is the top dirt figure in the field – but My Boy Jack may have to settle for a minor award if he leaves himself too much to do.

Telekinesis brings a similar profile as West Coast into the Lexington – the maiden winner will be making his third career start and stakes debut – and Post 2 looks like an advantage for the stalker. The Mark Casse trainee wound up on the lead by default last time and gradually gave way to be third in a two-turn Fair Grounds allowance, but the setback should serve as a good learning experience and Telekinesis registered another respectable BRIS Speed rating (92-93 in both starts). We're projecting improvement for the promising son of Ghostzapper and Telekinesis looks poised to sit just behind the early leaders before offering his best with Javier Castellano.

My Boy Jack will be included in any multi-race wagers.

Greyvitos makes his first appearance since winning the Springboard Mile in mid-December and has captured two straight stakes for Adam Kitchingman. The gray colt shows eight works in preparation and will be a forward presence from the start. He's dangerous with new jockey Joel Rosario.

Honor Up will be tested for class in his first attempt against winners, but we liked the turn of foot the Bill Mott-trained colt displayed in his last two outings and will use the returning sophomore underneath in exotics.
